The date for the Voiture 1379 ChicNic has been set for August 28th at Wallace State Park near Cameron, MO. Ray Diven has reserved the enclosed shelter house again so come rain or shine we are putting on another ChicNic.

“The Wall That Heals” which is the traveling exhibition of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall located in Washington, DC is coming to Blue Springs from September 30 to October 3, 2010.

The traveling exhibition allows veterans, families, friends and students in their home community to honor the 58,000 men and women whose names are inscribed on the Wall.

The Wall will be exhibited in Pink Hill Park, along with an Information Center and a variety of educational exhibits that will help educate the public about the Vietnam War and its effect on the nation.

The exhibition is free to the public and will be available 24 hours each day.

They are looking for volunteers and donations. If anyone would like to volunteer or donate to the exhibit you can call 816.655.0490 or email thewall@bluespringsgov.com

This months Promenade will be on February 24th in Cameron, MO with dinner at Post 33, at 18:00 HRS. The Promenade will begin at 19:00 HRS at Post 33.

The cost for the dinner according to Ray Diven will be between $5 and $6. No idea of what the menu will be but, there will be coffee, tea, and water plus what ever else is served.

If there are any other functions you would like to “get the word out” please let me know and I will put them on the Voiture 1379, The Grande du Missouri, and the 3rd District web site as well as the communiqué.
